DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 04/07/2006 has been entered.

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this section can be found in the prior office action.

3. The prior office actions are incorporated herein by reference. In particular, the observations with respect to claim language, and response to previously presented arguments.

4. Claims 1-55 have been cancelled.

5. new claims 56 and 57 have been added.

6. Claims 56 and 57 are pending.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. Claims 56 and 57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ono et al (2002/0035685 A1).

As per claim 56 Ono et al (2002/0035685 A1) teach a system for processing of information over a network (see abstract) comprising:

a first processing device having a plurality of compartments for storing information, the processing device further being structured to selectively transmit a communication of information from one of the compartments, the communication having a desired destination being a second processing device, the first processing device also transmitting security information associated with the communication; and an interface structured to receive a communication from less than all of the plurality of compartments, to resist receiving a communication from the remaining of the plurality of compartments, and to receive the security information, the interface being further structured to identify an authorized condition by comparing the security information against previously stored security information to determine when there is a match between the security information and stored security information, the interface further being structured to transmit the communication to the second processing device on identification of an authorized condition, and to retain the communication or transmit the communication to a third secured processor on identification of an unauthorized condition where there is no match made between the security information and stored security information, so that the communication does not reach the second processing device (see abstract; see fig.1-13 and associated text; paragraph [0024-0137] disclose client, the intermediately device and the server or other terminals that corresponds to the applicant's first, second and third processor or more processor, where the transmission of the security information corresponds to applicant's communication information having such information, where the intermediately authenticate the information and based on the authorization passes them to the receiver and if not authenticated it may send it to another terminal. Examiner considers the compartments as nothing more than storage areas such as hard disk or memory within each of the system devices of client, server or other terminals as disclosed in the above paragraphs. Furthermore the above lengthy limitations only disclose transmission of an information, authentication of it by an interface or an intermediately device and passing of it to the receivers based on the result of the authentication as disclosed throughout the reference. Examiner strongly suggests applicant to have the focus of the invention in the claim language in harmony with the specification).

As per claim 57 teach the system according to claim 56, wherein:

the first processing device includes at least one contact associated with each of the compartments; and the interface includes at least one contact structured to interface with the at least one compartment of a preselected compartment of the first processing device, the interaction of the at least one contacts of the interface and compartment permitting access to the compartment; whereby access to the other compartments by the interface is resisted (see paragraph[0024-0031 and 0036 where the table points to different part of the compartments in broad terms).
